DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 12-65 are still withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b).

Applicant's Amendment received July 16, 2004 has been reviewed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC §101

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The basis of this rejection is set forth in a two-prong test of:

- (1) whether the invention is within the technological arts; and
- (2) whether the invention produces a useful, concrete, and tangible result.

For a claimed invention to be statutory, the claimed invention must be within the technological arts. Mere ideas in the abstract (i.e., abstract idea, law of nature, natural phenomena) that do not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts fail to promote the "progress of science and the useful arts" (i.e., the physical sciences as opposed to social sciences, for example) and therefore are found to be non-statutory subject matter. For a process claim, the recited process must somehow apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts.

In the present case, claims 1-11 only recite an abstract idea. The recited steps of providing spending accounts, maintaining a spending limit, allocating at least one transaction, and automatically adjusting virtual balances does not apply, involve, use, or advance the technological arts since all of the recited steps can be performed in the mind of the user or by use of a pencil and paper. The terms "real time" and "automatically" and "on-line" do not obviate this line of reasoning. These steps only constitute an idea of how to provide a plurality of accounts. Applicant's REMARKS have been reviewed, but are not convincing. Applicant has not positively claimed any technology within the body of the claim language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Swart, US 6,347,306.

Swart discloses a real-time payroll data system 230 on-line job-based budget management of business time sheet invoices (time sheet data from work shifts) and providing accounts, e.g. bank accounts, allocating at least one transaction and automatically adjusting balances, e.g. balance in accounts. Swart does not explicitly disclose the terms "a balance comprises a fraction of total funds available from said actual account." However, the balance of funds transferred for each shift worked would encompass this concept. Nonetheless, it is noted that such a balance was common knowledge at the time of Applicant's invention, as was wireless communication and on-line or off-lines transactions. Thus, to have provided a balance comprises a fraction of total funds available from said actual account along with wireless communication and on-line or off-lines transactions for Swart would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art in view of what Swart discloses and common knowledge. To have substituted purchase orders for payroll information would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art.

5. Further pertinent references of interest are noted on the attached PTO-892.

Conclusion

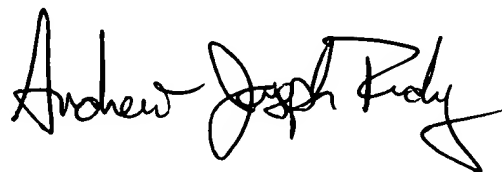

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
